JOHORE BAHRU, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysian Home Minister Ismail Bin Abdul Rahman announced today that he is restricting travel into Malaysia across the Singapore Causeway because of the threat of Indone-

Dr. D. Swartz of U. of A. Dies at 66

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Dr. Delbert Swartz, a leader in education and athletics at the University of Arkansas, died of a heart attack here Sunday, on his 66th birthday. Swartz, former president of the Southwest Conference, was chairman of the university faculty committee on athletics for many years and he was the university's representative to the SWC.

Swartz served two terms as vice president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. In 1949, twenty years after he joined the university faculty staff, Swartz was chosen to head the school's combined departments of botany and bacteriology. He relinquished that post two years ago to devote full time to teaching. Swartz and his wife established an academic award for the outstanding senior in athletics at the university.

Birth Control Cancer Fear Discounted

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Fears that long-term use of the controversial oral birth-control pills put out by several firms might cause cancer or other adverse side-effects appear groundless so far, the original developer of the pills said today.

Indeed, declared Dr. Gregory Pincus of Worcester, Mass., an evaluation of new and past studies of the use of the oral contraceptives — being taken by more than five million women in the United States alone — indicates:

1. Aside from apparently producing no major adverse effects on the reproductive and other endocrine-gland-regulated systems of the female body, the pills have achieved "apparent correction of certain abnormality states" in the womb, cervix (entrance to the womb) and breasts of some women.

2. There's justification to explore the possibility that long-term use of the pills may have the added beneficial effect of helping protect women from developing atherosclerosis — the form of hardening of the arteries under suspicion by many doctors as being a possible contributor to heart attacks. Dr. Pincus, a cofounder of the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology, gave his views in a "progress report" on investigations into long-term use of "The Pill," prepared for the spring meeting of the National Academy of Sciences.

He also said that various studies by other investigators indicate the pills — rather than being a potential cause of cancer — appear to be potentially protective against both cancer of the cervix and breast.

However, Dr. James A. Shannon, director of the National Institutes of Health, is on record as saying that women may be "taking a chance" by using the pills — and that he questions whether there is a long-term hazard, such as cancer, can only be settled by keeping close tabs on "a substantial number of patients over a number of years."

Paris Undergoing Worker's Strike

PARIS (AP) — Lights went out and gas pressure went down today as Frenchmen struggled through their second 24-hour gas and electric strike within a month. Thursday transport workers strike for 48 hours. All the workers want more pay. The government is holding back on wage hikes, saying they are inflationary.

Space Center at Kennedy Is Picketed

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Striking electrical workers, charging bad faith on the part of United Technology Center negotiators, posted pickets today at all five gates leading into the Kennedy Space Center.

It was not known immediately what effect the pickets would have. When the electrical workers picketed all five gates last Monday and Tuesday, only 400 construction men honored the lines while more than 12,000 other union workers passed through the lines.

Later the union reduced its picketing to a single gate. Involved in the strike are about 275 members of the California-based Local 1201 of the International Union of Electrical Workers, with 52 of them at Cape Kennedy. The rest work at United Technology facilities at Sunnyvale, Coyote and Redwood City, Calif.

A main issue in the strike, which began last week against United Technology, a division of United Aircraft Corp., is wages. Electricians in California claim they are paid less than the $3.93 an hour paid elsewhere in the space industry.

Union representatives have said they are asking for an hourly increase of 16 cents plus a 30-cent differential for working at Cape Kennedy. The company reportedly offered 91 cents and no differential.

Peanuts grow underground.

French Want U.S. Without NATO Tie

PARIS (AP) — Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville says France is quitting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's military command because it is out of date, but it doesn't want its friendship with the United States to diminish. "In the nuclear era, this organization does not deal with the essential element of defense which is nuclear defense," Couve de Murville said. "France doesn't seek a special advantage. She is adopting herself to a new situation and this can only have advantages for the equilibrium and peace in Europe."

President Charles de Gaulle's government contends that NATO's nuclear arsenal is almost entirely owned and controlled by the United States and that NATO has no effective hand in it.

Replying in writing to questions submitted by The Associated Press, the foreign minister said France values American friendship highly. He denied that his government plans a non-aggression pact with the Soviet Union and reiterated that the French would like to "contribute to a peaceful settlement" in Viet Nam.

People in the News

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — Army Lt. Col. Henry I. Tragle has added another honor to the list of medals he earned as a tank commander in World War II. This time it's a Phi Beta Kappa key.

Tragle, 51, was graduated from the University of Massachusetts last January and was presented the key this week.

He had sought the degree—though didn't expect a Phi Beta Kappa key with it—as far back as the 1930s but couldn't complete college because the depression forced him to go to work.

Tragle is a native of Richmond, Va.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Knocks Knobby Knees

Dear Helen: These aging dames who wear their skirts above their knobby knees should be forced to watch head-on movies of themselves walking. I don't believe you gals know it, but, when you walk, your tight skirts hike a couple of inches higher in front. Now I'm all for southern exposure on young and shapely gams, but older women do better at dignity than cheesecake.

How about starting a movement for women to lower their skirts one-half inch for every ten years, after age-25? — Girl Watcher

Dear G. W.: Sounds like a winner. Down, girls! — H.

P.S. A fashion editor I met recently maintains you can tell a woman's age by the back of her knees. No always, says I, but I'll bet this makes a lot of gals back up to full-length mirrors tonight.

Dear Helen: How can I keep from hearing all my friends' tale of woe? I'm a quiet person and I'd rather listen than talk, but not this way! I've lost several friends, too, because I guess I remind them of the bad times. They'd rather not know me once their problems are over. This hurts, because I listened while others couldn't be bothered. Sometimes I feel like a vase that people pour their troubles in and then toss in the ash can when no longer needed. Am I too sympathetic, or just a — Pathetic Simp?

Dear Simp: Sympathetic listeners make good "bad-weather friends" because they attract people who are "me-deep" in troubles. This especially if they listen with zealous curiosity and are hooked on popular psychology. Are you? Naturally those B. W. F.'s will drop you when the sun shines again; that is human nature. You remind them of times they'd rather forget; you know too much; you make them uncomfortable.

Throw away your umbrella (and crying towel) and develop a knack for changing subjects or easing people toward professional help. Friendly amateur counselors usually end up holding the sack — and getting it! — H.

Can You Top This? Don't!
Dear Helen: No matter what I say, this fella always says, "That reminds me..." and tops it with a story of his own. If I have done anything, he or his friends have done it better.

The other day a friend of mine from a well-known band, gave a piano performance for a party. This other guy walks up and says, "Say, I've got this friend who can make a piano talk, you got to hear him!" Which is like telling Andy Williams he should take lessons from Ed Sullivan. He can't wait to hear something out before he's up there with his boring spiel. How would you think he rates with people — he and guys like him, of which there are quite a few. — Bud

Dear Bud: He should be about as popular as a surfboard on the Sahara. People who can always go you one better should be invited to go one step farther — out of your life. — H.

Virginia 500 Is Won by Plymouth

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) — The experts wrote off the Fords for the Virginia 500 stock car race, and, according to the final scoring sheet, they were right.

Jim Paschal of High Point, N.C., won the race in a 1966 Plymouth, followed by Paul Goldsmith, of Munster, Ind., in a 1965 Plymouth, and Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., in another 1966 Plymouth.

Paschal started from the pole position and led 368 laps of the 500-lap race despite a scoring error that at first gave the win to Goldsmith.

Graustark, 11 Others Derby Field

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The fearsome reputation of unbeaten Graustark has driven another handful of Kentucky Derby eligibles to cover, reducing the tentative lineup to about a dozen colts — with two weeks still to go before the Churchill Downs classic.

Indications are there will be more tripping before the field is set for this country's most prestigious horse race a week from Saturday.

Prominent among the recent dropouts were Traginew and Postage, who ran 1-2, a nose apart, in the California Derby at Golden Gate fields last Saturday, and two Ogden Phipps-owned nominees — Stupendous and Impressive.

Graustark, the top-heavy Derby favorite from John Galbreath's Darby Dan Farm, hasn't intimidated Amberoid or Kauai King, winners of the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct and the Governor's Gold Cup at Bowie, respectively, last weekend.

They head a dwindling group of likely starters in the Run for the Roses that also includes Advocate, Buffle and Exhibitionist, who ran 2, 3 and 5 behind Amberoid in the Wood; Quinta, third in the Gold Cup; Fleet Shoe, beaten favorite in the California Derby; and Abe's Hope and Blue Skyer, already quartered in Kentucky.

Two other Derby hopefuls, Williamston Kid and Oaktown, arrived at Keeneland Sunday to begin preparations for the first leg of the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds.

Williamston Kid, who was moved up to first place in the Florida Derby after Abe's Hope was disqualified, came in from Florida and the unraced Oaktown arrived from Waterford Park in West Virginia.

Lucien Laurin, Ameroid's trainer, plans to van the colt to Churchill Downs Tuesday. Advocate, Buffle and Exhibitionist are expected to follow sometime this week.

Bill Boland, who rode Ameroid to a two-length, come-from-behind victory — the colt's first in a stakes — at Aqueduct, will be aboard the Reginald N. Webster color-bearer in the Derby.

John Sellers is expected to ride Advocate and Max Hirsch, who has saddled three Derby winners, will try to sign Manuel Ycaza as Buffle's rider.

Michael J. Ford of Omaha, Neb., owner of Kauai King, will ship his colt to Louisville today. Don Brumfield rode him to a three-length victory in the $118,000 Gold Cup.

Graustark will make his last pre-Derby start in Thursday's $25,000 Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland, with Abe's Hope and Blue Skyer also expected to go.

Celtics Are Dubious on Sixth Game

By C. C. MCGILLICUDDY

Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics move back to Los Angeles with a feeling of foreboding today about the sixth game of the National Basketball Association's championship playoffs.

"They'll be at their best with the crowd behind them and knowing there's no tomorrow," said John Havlicek of the Celtics after the defending champions put on their worst performance of the series to lose the fifth game 121-117 Sunday at Boston Garden.

Losing Coach Red Auerbach was especially burned about having to make the trip to Los Angeles for the game Tuesday night.

"We have that long, long trip for nothing," he moaned. "And I warned the guys this might happen. Once we got the lead we got careless. We thought it was over."

It was a combination of poor Bos on shooting and a stronger Los Angeles defense that gave the Lakers the fifth game victory, slicing Boston's lead to 3-2.

The Celtics had two terrible shooting periods, falling behind 37-23 in the first period while making only eight of 25 shots. Boston sunk only nine of 22 field goal tries in the fourth period although they still outscored the Lakers from the floor 45-43 for the game.

Elgin Baylor and Jerry West were the heroes of the victory, combining for 72 points. Baylor playing despite the loss of a thumb nail earlier in the week wound up with 41 points and contributed 16 rebounds as the Lakers out rebounded the Celtics 62-60.

NEW YORK (NEA)

For the first half-dozen years of its existence on the professional scene, the American Football League has attracted most of its attention by coming in the back door.

It didn't even change commissioners with dignity.

Joe Foss, deposed, went into the league meeting in Houston with a story that he was the commissioner at sunrise and would be the commissioner at sunset.

Actually, when Joe gave out the statement — at 3 o'clock in the morning in a Houston hotel room — he had mimeographed statements of his resignation already sitting at his elbow. He did it to spite a Houston writer he didn't like. Joe never expected the statement to circulate so quickly (it was picked up by the wire services).

Joe knew he was through last January in the same city when he put on his annual "get-tough-with-the-owners" act. They were going to let him off the hook and make it look as though quitting was the old war ace's own idea—until he messed up his public relations with the sunrise-sunset bit.

At the same time, the quick appointment of young (36) Al Davis wasn't the surprise it seemed at the time of the announcement. The move had been in the works for a month.

The surprise was Al's first official act as commissioner. He broke up a brawl between owner Bud Adams of the Oilers and a Houston writer, who was promptly offered the legal services of

SUCCESS STORY

Sarnoff was 5 when he posed for this picture with his mother in the village of Ustian, Russia, where he was born. The family arrived in the United States four years later, settling in New York City's lower East Side.

One of the most remarkable of America's many success stories is three-quarters of a century old. To mark the event, the saga of the immigrant youngster who became a founding father of the radio and television industry, a prophet and pioneer not only honored but a legend in his own time, is reviewed in "David Sarnoff," a new biography by Eugene Lyons. Still going strong at 75, Sarnoff, in foreground at right, and directors of his Radio Corporation of America view new technological developments at the company's Van Nuys, Calif., plant.

Still in his teens, Sarnoff worked as a wireless operator at Siasconset, Nantucket, Mass., for the Marconi Co., where he had started out as an office boy. He remained at his post, and in the international spotlight, for three days and nights after picking up the signal of the doomed Titanic from 1,400 miles at sea where it struck an iceberg and sank.

Twenty years later, when Sarnoff, left, posed with Guglielmo Marconi at the RCA transmitting center on Long Island, the radio industry which was largely his conception was already a multimillion-dollar business.

Beatles and Beyond

By PHILIP WERDELL
Moderator Magazine

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The Beatles won a new audience for mass music and left the hit parade with a musical example that will be hard to forget.

"The Beatles have done it again," rings the cry after each new hit. What the Beatles do again and again is show that pop music can be alive, inventive and unrepentant, even beautiful.

Teen-agers pass out squealing at the Beatles, to be sure, but these impish lads from Liverpool are laughing. Not only at the screaming girls, but at themselves. Their undying sense of humor is the first clue that they are not ordinary matinee idols.

The Beatles keep making faces at you, almost sticking out their tongues and saying, "Neh, neh, neh, I fooled you!" Their album covers of funny faces suggest that "If you buy this record, you have to take our funny faces with it" or "I wonder if the fans would love us in crevasses?" This all-pervading sense of humor comes through in every record—even when they are yelling "Help!" or "Yeah, Yeah, Yeah."

A Beatles' fan at the University of Chicago explains it this way: "The Beatles maintain a double image, one of the pop hero and the other of four sensitive human beings. One appeals to me and the other appeals to me."

There is a genuine and healthy need among modern youth for proof that you can make it in the mass media world and still, like John Lennon, write two books of poetry. "In His Own Write" and "A Spaniard in the Works."

When it came time to make a film, the Beatles could have made their millions just by sitting in front of a couple of sets in another beach party flick. Instead, they surprised all with "A Hard Day's Night" and "Help"—full of sight gags, purposely lacking in plot and combining new camera techniques. Students come out not only singing the latest hit but talking like real film buffs.

Another hint is the lyrics of the Beatles' songs. First of all, you can understand the words. This alone would be a major contribution to contemporary pop music. But that's not all.

As a young high school coed from New York City puts it: "They take the words right out of my mouth. Most hit tunes seem to believe that teen-agers today still fall for puppy love. Nuts. I'm not a little kid."

The Beatles still believe in love, but it's not the forever-and-ever this-is-my-only-hope-for-happiness pap which hold-out cynics in Tin Pan Alley continue to pretend young people believe. For the Beatles, it is a calm, "I'm Happy Just to Dance With You." They neither croon nor fall in feverish fits. Underneath all that routine uproarious applause, a lot of young people understand.

It was formerly owned by King George V, a famous stamp collector, and was especially rich in British and colonial issues. # Israel in a Word: 'Shalom'

by Helen Hennessy
Women's Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

TEL AVIV—(NEA)—A youngster as far as cities go, Tel Aviv nestles close to Jaffa, a city as old as history itself. And this proximity tells in capsule form the story of modern Israel where the old and the new rub shoulders with complete aplomb.

The ancient land of Abraham is also a young state where women serve a six-month stint in the army. Irrigation has performed a modern miracle of citrus groves and manufacturers of ready-to-wear are working hard to rival Seventh Avenue

In Caesaria, once the Roman capital of Palestine, folk dancers interpret the past in the ancient ruins of a theater. And in Tel Aviv "Fiddler On The Roof" is running—in Hebrew.

The old city of Jaffa on the Mediterranean still resounds with ancient wall music. While in Abie Nathan's California Restaurant (so much in the news since his "flight into Egypt") the juke box makes raucous sounds.

Standing on a broken wall on the Jordanian border in Jerusalem I viewed ancient landmarks of the Holy Land and stared across no-man's land at the very businesslike rifle of an Arab sentry.

Design in hand-woven fabric, glittering with gold Yemenite embroidery from Israel's handicraft center, Maskit, is photographed in ancient Jaffa.

The Carmon Folklore Group performing for the press and buyers attending Israel Fashion Week in Tel Aviv.

And at the old church of Notre Dame de France, whose roof offers a fine view of the walls of the old city of Jerusalem, I was asked to check my camera. Test picture-taking caused a border incident.

At the Israel Museum I saw the Dead Sea Scrolls and other old treasures. But back at my hotel I ran into Marlene Dietrich, slim as a chick in modern blue jeans, and Mandy Rice-Davies (of Profumo fame) voluptuous in a white floor-length number and a far cry from anything pertaining to the Dead Sea. See what I mean about old and new cultures rubbing elbows?

Even in the fashion business the ancient arts and crafts are as much in the picture as the products of Israel's modern ready-to-wear industry.

At Maskit, a marketing firm established as an outlet for the handicrafts of people who came from such places as Morocco, Tripoli, Tunis, Iraq and Yemen, beautiful designs with an exotic Eastern flavor are made of hand-woven fabric and glitter with silver and gold embroidery done by the Yemenites.

These fashions vied for honors on the runway during this second annual Israel Fashion week with handsome leathers, knits, rainwear, swimwear and furs produced by ready-to-wear manufacturers.

The workmanship in these off-the-peg clothes is of fine quality because it is the work of expert tailors and knitwear specialists who sought refuge in Israel during the European holocaust. And to make sure that these fashions were shown to advantage to the press and buyers attending the event, the government brought from Paris Patricia Soubriez, a model who appears in the Dior showings, to train the Israeli mannequins.

Just one more peek at how the old and new join hands here. On a drive from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem in a shiny modern car we had to stop on the road to let a camel cross. And traveling to Beer-sheba in a bus as modern as any you'll see in New York, passengers shared seats with live chickens and young lambs.

I was elated to learn that my faraway "shalom" to this exciting country could mean "an revoir" as well as "peace." For I should very much like to visit here again.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marshall Thompson's appearance at the 50th anniversary celebration for the San Diego Zoo was a revelation to him.

The actor has experienced a variety of crowd reactions, including the clamorous kind when he was a teen-age favorite at MGM in the late 1940s. But this was different, all because of his television series, "Daktari."

"They said their was record crowd of 30,000 at the zoo; would you believe 5,000?" remarked Thompson. "Anyway, the comments I received were unlike any I have known before."

"Women with children came up to thank me for the show. 'We think it's wonderful that you are doing something for the whole family,' they said. 'That amazed me. I didn't think the show was that good.'"

Neither did the television trade. "Daktari" was greeted with tepid reviews when it premiered on CBS in January. Despite the critical yawns, the show was an immediate winner in the ratings. Now "Daktari" and "Batman" appear to be the only midseason entries to survive the season.

Thompson works with a variety of animals in the series, notably Clarence the cross-eyed lion. His relations with Clarence?

"Excellent," said the actor. "But I don't push my luck. The important thing about working with wild animals is to know how they're feeling. I always check to see if Clarence is spooky or nervous. If he is, I don't try to push him too hard."

Arkansan Killed in Plane Crash

WASHINGTON (AP)—James D. Edwards of Pencil Bluff, Ark., was among military personnel killed Friday when a military plane crashed near Ardmore, Okla., the Defense Department announced Sunday.

Another Arkansan, Pvt. Terry Mayers of near Star City, survived the crash.

The department said Edwards was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel W. Edwards of Pencil Bluff.

A HIGH-GEAR GAL — She describes Marlon Brando as "the most marvelous thing" she would like to work in Hollywood, she's happy about the good reviews she won in her latest picture, "A Man Could Get Killed," with James Garner. Who? Melina Mercouri, of course. "I never on a Sunday" fame.

Vasco de Balboa, explorer-discoverer of the Pacific, was executed on the false charge of treason.

THE WELL CHILD

Earlier the Better Is Speech Treatment Rule

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A mother writes that her 3½-year-old son talks but not understandably and wants to know whether he will improve with time. By the time a child is 3½ he should be able to speak plainly unless there is a malformation of the voice box, soft palate, hard palate, nasal partition, jaws, lips or tongue. Faulty speech may also be due to mental retardation.

This child's doctor should be able to determine the cause of the trouble, but none of the causes mentioned will disappear with time. Many cities now have remedial speech centers. When such treatment is required the earlier it is started the better.

Q—My 14-month-old son has primary microcephaly. What caused it? Is there any treatment?

A—Microcephaly is an abnormally small brain. Primary implies that no cause, such as infection with the parasite, Toxoplasma, or X ray of the mother's abdomen in the first three months of pregnancy, could be found. In some cases there is a premature closure of the cranial joints. If this is the cause an operation to increase the size of the cranial cavity may be helpful.

Q—My doctor is giving my daughter, 9, Enuretrol to help her stop wetting the bed. Is this drug safe and effective? How does it help?

A—This is a combination of ephedrine and atropine. Both the amount usually prescribed.

Q—I have heard that there is a hypodermic syringe that doesn't use a needle. Give ing insulin to a struggling screaming child every day is becoming a nightmare. If you know of such a syringe, please tell me about it.

A—There is a hypodermic or jet injector that will force a fluid through a pinpoint opening and into the skin under a pressure of 75 to 1,200 pounds per square inch. Some training in its proper use is essential because careless handling will damage the skin. It should be available through any surgical supply house.

Q—My children, age 1 and 2, have had diarrhea off and on for six months. Sometimes I find lots of tiny black specks in their stools. Could these be parasites?

A—Intestinal parasites are white. Blood in the stools that comes from high up in the digestive tract is black but would rarely appear as tiny specks. If the diarrhea persists, a stool examination and culture should be made.

drugs tend to relax the muscles of the bladder wall and tighten the muscle (sphincter) that controls the outlet of the bladder. These drugs have been helpful in controlling bed wetting in children when physical and emotional causes have been ruled out. They are safe in IRONCLAD DUTY — Duty for the Viet Cong can be literally ironclad. Capt. Clay N. Mobley of Charlotte, N.C., a company commander with the 173rd Airborne Division, tries out an iron collar which had locked a guerrilla to his machine gun. Airborne troops found three Viet Cong bodies chained to their weapons during operation "Silver City" in War Zone D.

Editor on Desk Welcome Rain True Picture

There's nothing unusual in country newspaper circles for the old editor himself to turn up on the news desk, as this editor did today — but the circumstances are not ordinary.

Managing Editor Paul H. Jones and wife Mattie Elsie are moving into a brand new house today. New house, new furniture, new clothes — for they lost everything when the old homestead exploded and burned in Oakhaven last Christmas night.

The new place is on the East Side around the corner from the Highways U.S. 67-4 junction, on No. 4 — but as a friend I advise you not to go calling today. Friends who drop in when a couple are making a new house ready deserve to find themselves put to work scrubbing floors, arranging furniture, and hanging drapes. Personally I'm going to make myself scarce.

That 7.03-inch rain we had through 7 a.m. today, which was still falling at press-time, may be an inconvenience to city folks but it's a Godsend for the new crops and livestock.

We've had a major drouth in making but now broken — with virtually no rain last fall or winter, and heavy planting scheduled for this month-end and May. Now the new seed will have a chance — and cattle forage has jumped mightily.

When we had three consecutive years of drouth back in the 1950 I took an oath never to complain again about rain — not even 7 inches' worth.

The marquee at the Saenger theater advertises it as "The Spy Who Came in Out of the Cold" — which isn't exactly as I remember the title of the best-seller book.

But it's absolutely true to the story that John Le Carre wrote, "The Spy Who Came in From the Cold." This isn't one of the bombast impossible tales of Ian Fleming and his mythical agent James Bond. But it's the real McCoy — a true documentary on how spies live and work, written by a long-time British Secret Service agent.

You won't find it as thrilling as a James Bond spell-binder, but it's just as tense and deadly, with the title role played by Richard Burton, one of the greatest actors in the English language.

Too Much Power Says David Pryor

FORDYCE, Ark. (AP)—Various government agencies are being given too much authority and policy-making power, Rep. David Pryor of Ouachita County, a candidate for the 4th Congressional District seat, said Saturday.

Typical examples of almost autonomous power and expanding policy-making authority, he said, are the Federal Power Commission and Federal Communications Commission.

He told Jaycees here that their role "must be carefully scrutinized by Congress."

Red Planes Avoid U.S. Air Force

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Communist war planes stayed well out of the way of American jet aircraft Sunday after their first challenge in 10 months to the U.S. raiders had failed.

The defense of North Vietnamese targets was left to Communist ground gunners who knocked down two U.S. Air Force planes with intense surface-to-air missile and anti-aircraft fire, a U.S. spokesman said.

Two other U.S. planes were lost Saturday, apparently to anti-aircraft fire.

American pilots saw no Communist MIG jets Sunday, a spokesman said, even though U.S. Air Force and Navy planes hammered targets in the same general area where the Americans shot down two MIGs in dogfights Saturday.

On the ground in South Viet Nam, five major American operations met little enemy resistance. But the South Vietnamese said they had better luck.

Vietnamese forces reported killing 245 Viet Cong and capturing 20 weapons along a canal in the Mekong Delta 100 miles southwest of Saigon.

"The Fabulous World of Fishing in Arkansas," a splendid film in color made and distributed by the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, was seen by a large group of Rotarians and their guests at the weekly luncheon of the Hope Rotary Club Friday, April 22 in the Town and Country. Scenes from throughout the state showing fishing at its best were viewed.

"Arkansas is among the top 10 states in the sale of non-resident fishing licenses," said Dick Lawrence of the Game and Fish Commission, who showed the film to the club. He pointed out the two chief obstacles to the growth and development of fish in Arkansas lakes and streams are litter and pollution, and he asked all to be careful about not adding to the problem. The program was arranged by Charlie Wilson.

Besides the club members, others at the meeting were Paul Oiler, Blevins; Johnny Wilson, Columbus; Herald Porterfield, Jack Gathright, Dr. Sam Strong, and Father Joseph Enderlin.

7-Inch Rain Sweeps the Hope Area

One of the heaviest rainfalls in the last 12 months swept the Hope area over the week-end—a total of 7.03 inches, according to the official report of the Fruit & Truck Branch Experiment Station here.

Most of the rain fell Saturday and Sunday morning, the total to 7 a.m. Sunday being 6.73 inches, with an added .30 inch up to 7 Monday morning.

Rain continued into midday, with more forecast for Tuesday. However, it breaks what was shaping up as a major drouth, with little rain in last fall or winter.

If You Expect to Be a Normal Husband, Better Get a Normal Wife: Boyle

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

To remain normal yourself, one of the best things you can do is marry someone normal. That seems to be the message of a recent study of 38 "well-adjusted" husbands. The study found they all had mentally healthy wives.

We think of the air we breathe as free, but—air pollution is now estimated to cost $11 billion a year in wasted fuel and damage to health and property.

If your family isn't at least $6,000 in debt—counting auto loans and home mortgages—you are below the national average.

Few famous philosophers have come up with a more sensible personal credo than that of the great Negro baseball pitcher, Satchel Paige:

"Avoid fried meats, which anger up the blood. If your stomach disputes you, lie down and pacify it with cool thoughts. Keep the juices flowing by jangling around gently as you move. Go very light on the vices—such as carrying on in society. The social rumble just ain't restful. Avoid running at all times. Don't look back, something may be gaining on you."

Strike Halts Merger of N.Y. Papers

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike by the Newspaper Guild of New York has shut down the merged World Journal Tribune before the new corporation could start publication which had been scheduled for today.

A voluntary shutdown by four of the daily newspapers was averted when their publishers decided to keep printing on a day-to-day basis.

Matt Meyer, president of the new corporation, said shortly before midnight that he could not predict when the merged papers would be published. This was in view of the fact that none of the 10 unions in the newspaper industry has a contract with the World Journal Tribune Inc.

The AFL-CIO Newspaper Guild set up picket lines Sunday at the plants of the Journal-American, the World-Telegram & Sun and the Herald Tribune—all of which published their last editions as separate entities during the weekend.

The pickets signaled the start of the third major newspaper strike here in less than four years.

Officials of the Guild, which has the support of the other unions, said the strike was called primarily because of a dispute with the publishers over who should be dismissed in the merger and over layoff provisions.

The Guild and the other unions are seeking provisions to cushion the effects of the merger on the 2,000 of the 5,700 union employees of the three papers who will lose their jobs. The Guild is to lose 904 of its 1,800 jobs.

Heart Case Is Facing New Crisis

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Marcel DeRudder's surgeons are concerned today about a new complication — kidney malfunction — as their unconscious patient's partial artificial heart continued untrillingly to pump.

Methodist Hospital's final advisory Sunday reported the 65-year-old Westville, Ill., man "has improved in several respects" — although "some decrease of kidney function" began developing Sunday.

The 6 p.m. bulletin said laboratory tests indicated the kidney condition was "potentially reversible." There was no elaboration. His condition was listed this morning as "just the same."

De Rudder has been unconscious since Thursday in which a mechanical pump was attached to his heart and ascending aorta to provide a temporary bypass of his damaged left ventricle.

The pump "continues to function quite well," the Sunday advisory said, adding that DeRudder's central nervous system was beginning to "show signs of recovery with return of some of the reflexes."

DeRudder has been unconscious since the operation. Surgeons said he possibly suffered "temporary brain damage" during the operation and they began treating the retired coal miner for removal of excess fluid on his brain. They said the dome-shaped heart pump was not the cause of DeRudder's unconscious state.

DeRudder's pulse rate, blood pressure and respiration remained stable, the advisory said.

Mrs. DeRudder visited her husband four times Sunday and said afterward she had been told he "should be opening his eyes pretty soon."

Negro Abandons Legislative Race

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Charles Bussey of Little Rock, a Negro who filed as a candidate for state representative, said Saturday he was withdrawing because he couldn't get commitments of support from white liberals and labor.

Bussey, a Pulaski County sheriff's deputy, said he was depending on support from these groups when he entered the race for Position 3, 22nd District, Pulaski and Perry counties. He said he had entered the race on his own however

Frank Holt 8th to File for Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The list of Democratic candidates for governor of Arkansas swelled to eight Sunday night with the announcement of Frank Holt that he would step off the state Supreme Court bench and file.

The 55-year-old former attorney general has been an associate justice for the last four years. He nearly entered the governor's race in 1962, when Gov. Orval Faubus said he would retire then entered the race.

A veteran public official, Holt was completing his first term as attorney general then.

He will be the second member of the state's highest court to step out of the $20,000-a-year job to try for the governor's post, which pays just half that amount.

Jim Johnson resigned earlier as an associate justice, walked across the capitol grounds and filed as a candidate.

Four other Democrats have filed for the race, Winston Chandler of North Little Rock, Raymond Rebsamen of Little Rock, state Rep. Kenneth Sulcer of Osceola and former Congressman Brooks Hays.

Another former congressman, Dale Alford of Little Rock, and Sam Boyce, prosecuting attorney in the 3rd Judicial District, announced Saturday they would run.

Boyce served as Holt's deputy when the justice was prosecuting attorney in the Sixth Judicial District.

Holt is a native of near Harrison and a graduate of the University of Arkansas Law School.

He was in private law practice here until 1948, when he became a deputy prosecuting attorney. Holt was elected prosecuting attorney in 1954 and was re-elected in 1956 and 1958.

He won the attorney general's post in 1960 and in 1962 was elected to serve out the term of the late Supreme Court Justice J. Seaborn Holt.

Holt was unopposed in 1964 for his first eight-year term on the Supreme Court.

Alford, an eye surgeon, entered the race with showman's cheer as some 200 supporters cheered at a downtown hotel here.

Boyce, the center of a recent bitter feud in the Arkansas Young Democrats Clubs, made his intentions known some three hours earlier.

Both said they planned to formally file today.

Boyce said he expected from 10 to 15 persons in the race before the ticket closed at noon Wednesday.

"I approach this task with great humility but also with energy and enthusiasm," Alford said in a speech. He later told newsmen his humility had declined after looking over the primary field.

Alford declined to say which of the opponents he considered the most formidable.

Alford, 50, finished third in the gubernatorial race in 1962, behind Gov. Orval Faubus and Sid McMath.

He served two terms in the U.S. House, beating Hays in 1956 and Robert Hays Williams of Russellville in 1960.

Alford said he was not ready to discuss his platform in detail but that tax equalization, education, industrial and agricultural development, improved welfare benefits and an accelerated program for tourism will be key planks.

Boyce tabbed himself as the man to unite the Democratic Party for victory in November.

Boyce, 34, the 3rd District prosecutor, survived a bitter feud within the ranks of the YDC last year and became president of the group.

Jack Files of North Little Rock, a Boyce supporter, was elected YDC president this year. He attended Boyce's news conference.

Boyce said a reorganization and rededication was essential for all Democrats as the only "safe and sure way to insure victory in November."

6 Children Perish in Hope Fire

Six Negro children were killed late Saturday night when fire destroyed a four-room house here. Fire Chief Jim Cobb said Sunday.

Cobb said the fire apparently started when lightning struck a television set in the house. Cobb said some type of explosion followed but it was not known what had exploded.

The Hope Police Department identified the dead as Alvin Ray Crockett, 14; Deborah Louise Crockett, 13; Linda Crockett, 8; Veronica Crockett, 8; Sharon Giles, 5, and Vivian Giles, 3.

Police said Mary Crockett, 18, received burns over 20 per cent of her body. A Hope hospital said her condition was not critical.

James Giles, father of the two Giles children; his wife and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Pearl Crockett, were at work.

The fire was discovered by a neighbor who was awakened by smoke. She called the Fire Department but two trucks answering the call were slowed by water running through the streets during a heavy rain. The house was a mass of flames before the firemen arrived.

Hope was drenched by almost 7 inches of rain during thunderstorms Saturday and early Sunday.

Mo. Pac. Is Blocked by Big Storm

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP)—Two days of torrential rains measuring up to 18 inches sent northeast Texas streams on a rampage, killing at least 10 persons and disrupting rail and highway traffic.

Numerous highway bridges were swept away or weakened. Rail traffic on at least one main line was halted when a bridge collapsed, sending a diesel engine into the swirling water.

Lowland areas near Longview, Gladewater, Kigore and Marshall have been evacuated and a major flood warning has been issued for the Sabine and Cypress rivers in northeast Texas.

Forecasts called for more heavy rainfall and thundershowers today.

The Sabine River was expected to rise 10 feet above flood stage today at Gladewater, where 18.19 inches of rainfall fell in a 48-hour period.

A railroad bridge on the main Texas & Pacific line west of Longview was knocked out Saturday and a diesel engine plunged into the creek.

A dam at Devernia Lake, between Gladewater and Longview, washed away Sunday and rails from tracks along the dam knocked off the control valves of an oil well.

Highway forces closed off four major highways and numerous farm-to-market roads in Gregg, Upshur, Harrison, Wood, Rusk and Marion counties.

Many streets in Longview were impassable and water stood three feet deep in some areas. Over 7 inches of rainfall was recorded between midnight and Saturday noon Sunday.

An estimated $25,000 damage was caused Saturday night when a tornado whipped through the edge of Winsboro, persons at Hot Springs off from northwest of Longview. The Telephone service and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. auditorium and 40 new automobiles says it may be Thursday before repairs can be completed.

Two cars, but no injuries were reported.

A wide area of San Antonio was blacked out Sunday night when heavy rains and a thunderstorm swept across the city.
